

Dear Fellow NILD Educational Therapists,
I just finished my last session with a student I've had for 6 years. He graduates high school this year.

He is SUCH a success story! For a student who could barely spell and do any math, he has accomplished so much! He's an excellent story writer and is in the middle of writing a book that has such depth and insight. He made honor roll and was inducted into the National Technical Honor Society. He'll be attending a technical college in the fall. If you would have asked him a few years ago, he would not have thought he'd be attending any college. He probably wondered how he'd ever graduate from high school.

He is such a godly young man with so much to offer. I am so proud of him and all that he accomplished through hard work and dedication!

His mother gave me a gift - a Willow Tree Angel of Freedom. The caption is "Allowing dreams to soar". That's what NILD offers these students. I am so blessed to have been a part of a life changed.

Thank you, NILD, for developing a program that works and changes lives! Not only life change for the student, but their families as well.

"And whatever you do in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him." Colossians 3:17
